Oregon Council of Teachers of English
OCTE Chalkboard
PO Box 21765
Portland, OR 97227-2176

Please Post

Oregon Council of Teachers of English
2012 Spring Conference • April 21, 2012
Ashland High School • 201 S. Mountain Avenue • Ashland, Oregon 97520

Pre-registration Form
Pre-registration deadline: April 14, 2012

You may register on-line at octe.org

Conference Registration

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Conference Schedule</th>
<th>Amount</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Saturday Conference: New OCTE member $96</td>
<td>Full-time students/vision $30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 a.m. - 12:05 p.m. - Concurrent Sessions</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11:45 a.m. - 12:45 p.m. - Barry Lopez</td>
<td>2:00 p.m. - 4:05 p.m. - Concurrent Sessions</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>$</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

On-site registration will be $100 for everyone. A group pre-registration for 5 or more OCTE members is available at $65 each.

For information see octe.org

Name ________________________________ Street Address ________________________________
City ______________________ State/Zip ______________________
Phone ______________________ Email ______________________
School ______________________

Barry Lopez, keynote speaker
Barry Lopez, author of Arctic Dreams (National Book Award), Of Wolves and Men (National Book Award Finalist), is a member of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) and a Distinguished Writer under the National Endowment for the Arts. His book Arctic Dreams was chosen for the Book Across America/Early Reading Program. He has received Guggenheim, National Endowment for the Arts, and MacArthur fellowships. He has been honored with the Distinguished Alumni Award at the University of Arizona. Lopez’s books have been translated into a dozen languages and have sold over a million copies. His most recent book, Crossing Open Ground, About This Life and Home Ground, Language for an American Landscape (Wendy Graeter) were chosen for the National Book Network’s Travel and How to Read Book Club.

Conference Schedule

Saturday Conference:
- New OCTE member $96
- Member $60
- Full-time student/vision $30

Total

For information see octe.org

For registration questions contact:
OCTE
410 NE Broadway
Ashland, OR 97520
970-749-2263
Fax 970-749-2405
Email: octe@octe.org

Keynote Speaker: Barry Lopez
“The Writer and Social Responsibility”

Barry Lopez, author of Arctic Dreams (National Book Award), Of Wolves and Men (National Book Award Finalist), is a member of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) and a Distinguished Writer under the National Endowment for the Arts. His book Arctic Dreams was chosen for the Book Across America/Early Reading Program. He has received Guggenheim, National Endowment for the Arts, and MacArthur fellowships. He has been honored with the Distinguished Alumni Award at the University of Arizona. Lopez’s books have been translated into a dozen languages and have sold over a million copies. His most recent book, Crossing Open Ground, About This Life and Home Ground, Language for an American Landscape (Wendy Graeter) were chosen for the National Book Network’s Travel and How to Read Book Club.

Conference Schedule

Saturday Conference:
- New OCTE member $96
- Member $60
- Full-time student/vision $30

Total

For information see octe.org

Pre-registration deadline: April 14, 2012

Pre-registration Form

Name ________________________________ Street Address ________________________________
City ______________________ State/Zip ______________________
Phone ______________________ Email ______________________
School ______________________

Barry Lopez, keynote speaker
Barry Lopez, author of Arctic Dreams (National Book Award), Of Wolves and Men (National Book Award Finalist), is a member of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) and a Distinguished Writer under the National Endowment for the Arts. His book Arctic Dreams was chosen for the Book Across America/Early Reading Program. He has received Guggenheim, National Endowment for the Arts, and MacArthur fellowships. He has been honored with the Distinguished Alumni Award at the University of Arizona. Lopez’s books have been translated into a dozen languages and have sold over a million copies. His most recent book, Crossing Open Ground, About This Life and Home Ground, Language for an American Landscape (Wendy Graeter) were chosen for the National Book Network’s Travel and How to Read Book Club.

Conference Schedule

Saturday Conference:
- New OCTE member $96
- Member $60
- Full-time student/vision $30

Total

For information see octe.org

Pre-registration deadline: April 14, 2012

Pre-registration Form

Name ________________________________ Street Address ________________________________
City ______________________ State/Zip ______________________
Phone ______________________ Email ______________________
School ______________________

Barry Lopez, keynote speaker
Barry Lopez, author of Arctic Dreams (National Book Award), Of Wolves and Men (National Book Award Finalist), is a member of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) and a Distinguished Writer under the National Endowment for the Arts. His book Arctic Dreams was chosen for the Book Across America/Early Reading Program. He has received Guggenheim, National Endowment for the Arts, and MacArthur fellowships. He has been honored with the Distinguished Alumni Award at the University of Arizona. Lopez’s books have been translated into a dozen languages and have sold over a million copies. His most recent book, Crossing Open Ground, About This Life and Home Ground, Language for an American Landscape (Wendy Graeter) were chosen for the National Book Network’s Travel and How to Read Book Club.

Conference Schedule

Saturday Conference:
- New OCTE member $96
- Member $60
- Full-time student/vision $30

Total

For information see octe.org

Pre-registration deadline: April 14, 2012

Pre-registration Form

Name ________________________________ Street Address ________________________________
City ______________________ State/Zip ______________________
Phone ______________________ Email ______________________
School ______________________

Barry Lopez, keynote speaker
Barry Lopez, author of Arctic Dreams (National Book Award), Of Wolves and Men (National Book Award Finalist), is a member of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE) and a Distinguished Writer under the National Endowment for the Arts. His book Arctic Dreams was chosen for the Book Across America/Early Reading Program. He has received Guggenheim, National Endowment for the Arts, and MacArthur fellowships. He has been honored with the Distinguished Alumni Award at the University of Arizona. Lopez’s books have been translated into a dozen languages and have sold over a million copies. His most recent book, Crossing Open Ground, About This Life and Home Ground, Language for an American Landscape (Wendy Graeter) were chosen for the National Book Network’s Travel and How to Read Book Club.

Conference Schedule

Saturday Conference:
- New OCTE member $96
- Member $60
- Full-time student/vision $30

Total

For information see octe.org

Pre-registration deadline: April 14, 2012

Pre-registration Form

Name ________________________________ Street Address ________________________________
City ______________________ State/Zip ______________________
Phone ______________________ Email ______________________
School ______________________
Why I Attend OCTE Conferences
Jody Bean
Kathen Hepp, Oregon City High School

I care: the support I receive from other teachers at the conference, the fresh ideas, the camaraderie.

I should: bolster my knowledge of the profession so that I can mentor my students more effectively.

I desire: a chance to try things out, to grow, and to meet people who share my passion for teaching.

I create: a professional environment where my students feel comfortable expressing their ideas and questioning what they know.

I’m grateful: that I can chalk a road trip up to “professional development.”

I grow: through the fresh ideas, the camaraderie.

I long to: intersect with others who are different from me, who challenge my assumptions and compel me to think outside the box.

I love: the comfort of relaxing in the company of like-minded reading nerds.

I cherish: the support I receive from other teachers at the conferences, the means to learn, and the opportunity to share ideas with other educators.

I crave: the support I receive from other teachers at the conferences, the means to learn, and the opportunity to share ideas with other educators.

I heed: the call to be an active member of the profession, to contribute to the field, and to be a leader.

I heed: the call to be an active member of the profession, to contribute to the field, and to be a leader.

I hope: that the participating teachers: How do we fix this? What can we do as teachers? What can we do to help improve education? It’s not just happening in my classroom. It’s happening everywhere. We need to be a part of the solution.

I expect: that the participating teachers: How do we fix this? What can we do as teachers? What can we do to help improve education? It’s not just happening in my classroom. It’s happening everywhere. We need to be a part of the solution.

I attend: OCTE conferences because I know that my conference dollars aren’t wasted.

I attend: OCTE conferences because I know that my conference dollars aren’t wasted.

I love: the comfort of relaxing in the company of like-minded reading nerds.

I love: the comfort of relaxing in the company of like-minded reading nerds.

I long to: intersect with others who are different from me, who challenge my assumptions and compel me to think outside the box.

I cherish: the support I receive from other teachers at the conferences, the means to learn, and the opportunity to share ideas with other educators.

I crave: the support I receive from other teachers at the conferences, the means to learn, and the opportunity to share ideas with other educators.

I heed: the call to be an active member of the profession, to contribute to the field, and to be a leader.

I heed: the call to be an active member of the profession, to contribute to the field, and to be a leader.

I hope: that the participating teachers: How do we fix this? What can we do as teachers? What can we do to help improve education? It’s not just happening in my classroom. It’s happening everywhere. We need to be a part of the solution.

I expect: that the participating teachers: How do we fix this? What can we do as teachers? What can we do to help improve education? It’s not just happening in my classroom. It’s happening everywhere. We need to be a part of the solution.

I attend: OCTE conferences because I know that my conference dollars aren’t wasted.

I attend: OCTE conferences because I know that my conference dollars aren’t wasted.

I love: the comfort of relaxing in the company of like-minded reading nerds.

I love: the comfort of relaxing in the company of like-minded reading nerds.

I long to: intersect with others who are different from me, who challenge my assumptions and compel me to think outside the box.

I cherish: the support I receive from other teachers at the conferences, the means to learn, and the opportunity to share ideas with other educators.

I crave: the support I receive from other teachers at the conferences, the means to learn, and the opportunity to share ideas with other educators.

I heed: the call to be an active member of the profession, to contribute to the field, and to be a leader.

I heed: the call to be an active member of the profession, to contribute to the field, and to be a leader.

I hope: that the participating teachers: How do we fix this? What can we do as teachers? What can we do to help improve education? It’s not just happening in my classroom. It’s happening everywhere. We need to be a part of the solution.

I expect: that the participating teachers: How do we fix this? What can we do as teachers? What can we do to help improve education? It’s not just happening in my classroom. It’s happening everywhere. We need to be a part of the solution.

I attend: OCTE conferences because I know that my conference dollars aren’t wasted.

I attend: OCTE conferences because I know that my conference dollars aren’t wasted.

I love: the comfort of relaxing in the company of like-minded reading nerds.

I love: the comfort of relaxing in the company of like-minded reading nerds.

I long to: intersect with others who are different from me, who challenge my assumptions and compel me to think outside the box.

I cherish: the support I receive from other teachers at the conferences, the means to learn, and the opportunity to share ideas with other educators.

I crave: the support I receive from other teachers at the conferences, the means to learn, and the opportunity to share ideas with other educators.

I heed: the call to be an active member of the profession, to contribute to the field, and to be a leader.